Applicability

This policy is applicable to all employees of PRIDE, effective from their date of hire or effective from the date of rolling out a revised policy, whichever is more recent.

Public Holidays

PRIDE will honour the following Public Holidays. Based on client need, if you are required to work on any or all of these mandatory holidays mentioned below, you will be compensated with double pay (one day's additional salary) for each such day worked. The mandatory holidays are:

26 January - Republic Day
*01 May – Labour Day
15 August – Independence Day
2 October – Gandhi Jayanti

*Not applicable for certain work locations

Holiday Schedule

You are required to adhere to the holiday schedule applicable for the respective client you support. The holiday schedule for the year is provided on an annual basis at the start of each year and is configured in your profile in Pride's HRMS system - HRWorks.
If you are required to work on a scheduled holiday based on client need, you will be eligible for a compensatory day off for each such day worked or to any other provision offered by your respective end client.
To accrue your comp off, mark your attendance in the HRMS portal against the holiday date you had worked. Also ensure to update your attendance in your respective client timekeeping system per the method advised by the client. PRIDE's HR team will validate your attendance for the holiday worked using your approved client attendance and process the comp off which will then be available in your leave balance.
Compensatory days off should be availed within the same calendar year or the client specified duration and can be used only after being earned by working on a holiday first.
Unused compensatory days off at the end of each year will lapse unless the client policy allows accumulation year on year.

Week Off Schedule

Based on your client's work schedule you will be entitled to weekly offs that can fall on Saturday and Sunday or any other day of the week as determined by the client.
If you are on a fixed week off schedule, notify PRIDE's HR so that the same can be configured for you in your HRMS profile for proper attendance management.

If you are on a rotational week off schedule, you will need to apply for your week off in the portal to indicate your week off days.
If you are required to work on a scheduled week off based on client need, you will be eligible for a compensatory day off for each such day worked.

To accrue your comp off, mark your attendance in the HRMS portal against the holiday date you had worked. Also ensure to update your attendance in your respective client timekeeping system per the method advised by the client. PRIDE's HR team will validate your attendance for the holiday worked using your approved client attendance and process the comp off which will then be available in your leave balance.

Compensatory days off should be availed within the same calendar year or the client specified duration and can be used only after being earned by working on a scheduled week-off first.
Unused compensatory days off at the end of each year will lapse unless the client policy allows accumulation year on year.

Annual Leave Entitlements

Work Location	Privilege Leave	Casual Leave	Sick Leave
Chennai	12	12	12
Hyderabad	15	12	12
Mumbai	18	0	8
Pune	18	0	8
Gurgaon	18	7	7

All leave entitlements will be calculated based on the calendar year January 1st to December 31st. Further, they will be pro-rated based on the start/end date of employment.

Earned or Privilege Leave

Earned Leaves, also known as Privilege leaves, are leaves which are earned on a monthly accrual basis based on work performed. These leaves can be carried forward for up to the allowed threshold as defined in the respective Shops & Establishments Act of the work location state.

Privilege leaves should be utilized for any of the following reasons:

- Planned time-off for vacation, personal commitments, marriage, etc. regardless of duration
- Time-off exceeding 3 days other than for medical reasons
- Furlough days imposed by a client where applicable

Privilege leave can be clubbed with sick leave if there is inadequate sick leave balance and additional time off is required to cater to a medical condition, subject to management approval based on submission of valid medical documents supporting the need.

Privilege leaves can be encashed subject to end client approvals and company policy and where permitted, cannot exceed the maximum accumulation limit allowed by the Shops & Establishments Act as indicated below.

Location	Annual S&E Entitlement	Maximum Accumulation per S&E
Chennai	12	24 Days
Hyderabad	15	60 Days
Mumbai	18	45 Days
Pune	18	45 Days
Gurgaon	18	30 Days
Noida	15	45 Days in 3 Years
Bangalore	18	45 Days

Any absence of more than the number of days approved for Privilege Leave shall be treated as unauthorized absence from duty which is not payable.
Any privilege leaves taken in excess of the available accrued eligibility will result in a loss of pay for the time exceeding the leave balance.

Privilege Leave Encashment

Privilege leaves will be subject to encashment in keeping with client specific conditions and company policy upon termination of employment.
Privilege leaves will not be payable for cases where probation or notice period terms were violated.
Leave encashments where payable will be processed upon client approval of the submitted leave encashment details and the overall process can take between 60 – 90 days depending on the client.
Leave encashment eligibility will be indicated in the new hire orientation of the respective end client.

Casual Leave

Casual leaves are granted solely to help accommodate certain unforeseen situations and/or emergencies. Casual leave will not be granted for more than three days at a time and in a given month. Casual leave requirements exceeding 3 days will automatically be converted to and processed as Privilege leave.

Casual leaves are allotted on a pro-rata basis based on the entitlement for each state in keeping with the Shops & Establishments Act.

Any absence of more than the number of days approved for casual leave shall be treated as unauthorized absence from duty.
Any casual leaves taken in excess of the available eligibility will result in a loss of pay for the time exceeding the leave balance.
Casual leaves cannot be encashed and will lapse at the end of the year.

Sick Leave

Sick leaves are granted to help employees handle situations related to health and wellness. Sick leaves are allotted on a pro-rata basis based on the entitlement for each state in keeping with the Shops & Establishments Act. Sick leaves should be used solely to address health and wellness concerns that require time-off and should not be used for any other purpose.

Sick leave availed continuously for 3 days or more will have to be supported with a Medical Certificate and a fitness certificate for resuming duty after sickness, from a registered medical practitioner.
Leave application (for three days or more) without a medical Certificate will not be considered as authorized sick leave and will be processed as unapproved leave.
Any sick leaves taken in excess of the available eligibility will result in a loss of pay for the time exceeding the leave balance.
If an employee has contracted a contagious disease, then he/she will be allowed to resume work only after the prescribed rest period. In order to resume his/her regular duty, he/she would be required to produce a medical certificate and fitness certificate from a certified medical practitioner.
Repetitive instances of availing sick leave beyond three times in a quarter will require review of employee fitness by management to warrant continuation of employment.
Employees if calling in sick must inform their HR contact and client supervisor well in advance of the commencement of their respective shifts.
All sick leaves must be sanctioned by the HR contact and approved by the designated client supervisor.
Un-availed sick leave will lapse at the end of the year.

Maternity Leave

All female full-time employees in good standing who have worked for 80 days in the 12 months immediately preceding the date of expected delivery are eligible for Maternity leave.
Any female full-time employee shall be entitled to maternity leave of twenty-six weeks, of which not more than eight weeks shall precede the date of her expected delivery.
(The 26 weeks include all Saturdays, Sundays and intervening holidays). Salary for this period will be paid as per normal schedule.
Maternity leave can be neither en-cashed nor carried forward or combined with any other type of leave, except sick leave (where the S&E entitlement of the work location provides it) in case of post-delivery complications as certified by the doctor, subject to management and end client approval.

Type of Maternity Leave	Duration (in weeks)
Pre-natal Leave	8 weeks
Post-natal Leave	18 weeks
Total Maternity Leave (for up to 2 childbirths)	26 weeks
Total Maternity Leaves (for the third or subsequent childbirth)	12 weeks

To avail maternity leave, the pregnancy update should be notified to your PRIDE HR contact at the earliest but no later than by the start of the second trimester (fourth month).

Menstrual Leave

All female employees working in the state of Karnataka aged between 18 to 52 years, are eligible for menstrual leave as follows:

1. 1-day menstrual leave will be offered for women employees in the eligible age bracket.
2. Cannot be rolled over across months.
3. No medical certificate or doctor's note is required to avail the same.

Inform your PRIDE HR rep along with your client supervisor prior to availing this leave apart from applying for the same in HRWorks and your client timekeeping system.

Furlough Leave

Furlough leaves are mandatory unpaid leaves that are enforced by clients to optimize the use of resources as a cost saving mechanism. Depending on your client's work policy, you may be subject to a mandatory furlough with prior notification from your client.
If you are subjected to a furlough, you will not be required to work on such days and hence, such days will not be payable. However, you may opt to utilize your available privilege leave balance to cover the furlough period, and if the furlough days exceed the available leave balance, the excess will be deducted from your payroll.
Accordingly, in the HRMS portal, furloughs should be applied against the Privilege Leave balance or under leave without pay, as the case may be.

Unapproved Leave

Unapproved leaves are when an employee takes time-off without securing proper approvals and authorization from the respective PRIDE HR contact and client supervisor. Unapproved leaves are also considered when an employee availing a certain leave type such as sick leave is unable to provide the associated supporting documentation by the prescribed period, to establish the claim. All unapproved leaves are unpaid and hence, will result in loss of pay for the duration of the unapproved leave.

Undertime

Employees are expected to work as per the required work hours defined by their end client to ensure a full day's salary is payable. Based on validation of attendance if the number of hours approved by a client on any given day are less than the defined hours for a workday, the equivalent shortfall will be deducted from the available Privilege Leave balance of the employee to compensate for the time not worked in the subsequent payroll.

Absent Days

Employees are expected to update their attendance for each day worked and every time-off day availed, accurately in the respective client timekeeping system per the guidelines given, apart from indicating the time-off in HRWorks. Any absent days approved by the client due to lack of attendance input from the employee will be adjusted against the available Privilege Leave balance of the employee and where adequate PL balance is not available, such absent days will result in loss of pay.

Requesting Leave

All leave requirements should be discussed with your client supervisor and upon agreement, be entered into Pride 's HRMS system – HRWorks – under the appropriate leave category for employer approval.
The type of leave in keeping with your need and eligible entitlement based on your work location should be selected in the leave request. Available leave balance for the selected leave type will be reflected in the leave application section of the HRMS portal. If your leave requirement exceeds the available leave balance, your leave will be processed with loss of pay for the excess days. For your reference, the specific pay heads for the leave codes are:
PL – Privilege Leave
CL – Casual Leave
SL – Sick Leave
CO- – Comp Off
LWP – Leave Without Pay
Menstrual Leave – Menstrual Leave

Availing Comp-off

Any comp off availed should be entered in the client timecard under the 'worked/billable' pay code or notes section as applicable, since such time is billable to the client.

Emergency Leave Requests

In the event of an unforeseen emergency, the request for time-off should be alerted to your client supervisor and the PRIDE HR contact by emailing opsupport@pridetech.com/opsupport@russelltobin.com (preferred) or by calling prior to the commencement of your shift. The leave update should be reflected in the HRMS portal within a day of the emergency. Employees may be asked to provide substantiation of the emergency to validate the leave request and approve it for pay. Failure to provide reasonable supporting details/documentation can result in the leave request being processed as unapproved leave.
